

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC)

Laboratory Application Process for the CPSC Third Party Testing

John Golden
Regional Product Safety Attaché (Asia-Pacific)
U.S. Embassy, Beijing

This presentation was not reviewed or approved by the Commission.
It may not reflect its views.

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

To be considered for CPSC acceptance as a third party testing laboratory:

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

To be considered for CPSC acceptance as a third party testing laboratory:

- The laboratory must be ISO 17025 accredited by an accreditation body that is a signatory to the International Laboratory Accreditation Cooperation Mutual Recognition Arrangement (ILAC-MRA).

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

To be considered for CPSC acceptance as a third party testing laboratory:

- The laboratory must be ISO 17025 accredited by an accreditation body that is a signatory to the International Laboratory Accreditation Cooperation Mutual Recognition Arrangement (ILAC-MRA).
- The application must list specifically which rules(s), standards(s), and/or test method(s) for which the laboratory is seeking CPSC acceptance.

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

To be considered for CPSC acceptance as a third party testing laboratory:

- Laboratory must be ISO 17025 accredited by an accreditation body that is a signatory to the International Laboratory Accreditation Cooperation Mutual Recognition Arrangement (ILAC-MRA).
- The application must list specifically which rules(s), standards(s), and/or test method(s) for which the laboratory is seeking CPSC acceptance.
- Laboratories must apply through the CPSC website.

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

There are additional requirements specified under the law if:

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

There are additional requirements specified under the law if:

- The laboratory has ownership or controlling interests by a manufacturer or importer

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

There are additional requirements specified under the law if:

- The laboratory has ownership or controlling interests by a manufacturer or importer
- The laboratory has ownership or controlling interests by a government

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

Laboratories that apply must agree to comply with the CPSC requirements published in the Code of Federal Regulations at 16 CFR part 1112.

<http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/FR-2013-03-12/pdf/2013-04649.pdf>

Web Resources

- Main Information Page for Lab Acceptance
<http://www.cpsc.gov/en/Business--Manufacturing/Testing-Certification/Lab-Accreditation/>
- Link to Submit Application:
<http://www.cpsc.gov/cgi-bin/labregentry/>
- Searchable List of CPSC-Accepted Laboratories
<http://www.cpsc.gov/cgi-bin/labsearch/>
- CPSC Chemical Test Methods
<http://www.cpsc.gov/Business--Manufacturing/Testing-Certification/Lab-Accreditation/Test-Methods/>
- List of CPSC rules / standards requiring third party testing
<http://www.cpsc.gov/Business--Manufacturing/Testing-Certification/Lab-Accreditation/Rules-Requiring-Third-Party-Testing/>

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

Thank You!

John Golden

Regional Product Safety Attaché (Asia-Pacific)

U.S. Embassy, Beijing

Phone: 86-10-8531-3318

Fax: 86-10-8531-3652 (fax)

JGolden@cpsc.gov

GoldenJx@state.gov