Re: CPSC CA950167
Slingking
water balloon sling shot

Dear Mr. Ford:

The staff of the Office of Compliance of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has reviewed the actions proposed by 4D Innovations, Inc. concerning its water balloon sling shots.

The firm accepted the CPSC staff's recommended text for labels to be affixed to your packaging and to the slingshot pouch. You agreed that the label on the pouches would contain the CPSC staff's recommended letter size and warning.

The Commission staff appreciates your cooperation in addressing the issue of serious injuries occurring with water balloon slingshots. The staff has accepted your firm's voluntary corrective action plan finalized in October 1996 as adequate. As a corrective action, the labeling on the slingshot pouches and on the product packaging is intended to prevent further eye, face or other serious injuries in the future. Should future evidence show that these actions are inadequate to address consumer perception of the hazard and that serious injuries continue, the Commission will revisit this issue with your firm. This summer the Commission has received three new reported injuries with water balloon slingshots: two eye injuries and a ruptured spleen. In these new cases investigated thus far, the products involved did not have the "new" warning and no manufacturer was identified.

CA950167

The firm has a continuing obligation to inform the Commission of any and all defects associated with this product which could create a substantial product hazard and of information which reasonably supports the conclusion that a product creates an unreasonable risk of serious injury or death. If the firm receives any information affecting the scope, prevalence, or seriousness of the defect or hazard, you must immediately report that information to the Division of Corrective Actions pursuant to section 15(b) of the CPSA.

The Commission publishes a list of product recalls and other corrective actions initiated by firms in an Annual Report to Congress. This information is also occasionally used in lists for specific product categories. A summary of the firm's corrective action is enclosed. This letter gives the firm its opportunity under section 6(b)(1) of the Consumer Product Safety Act (CPSA), 15 U.S.C. § 2055(b)(1), and 16 C.F.R. Part 1101, to comment on the accuracy of the information. Unless the firm notifies the staff by telephone or letter within twenty-three calendar days of your receipt of this certified letter if they are to be considered. If the firm believes that the information is not accurate, please send comments to Jean Kennedy.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter. We hope that future dealings between the company and the Division of Corrective Actions, should they become necessary, will be conducted in the same spirit.

Sincerely,

for

Marc J. Schoem
Director
Division of Corrective Actions

Voluntary Corrective Action Plans Under Section 15 of the Consumer Product Safety Act and
Section 15 of the Federal Hazardous Substances Act

The following is a list of voluntary corrective action plans recently accepted by the Commission (or the staff acting under authority delegated by the Commission). A firm's taking corrective action does not constitute admission by the firm that a substantial product hazard exists.

Space does not permit the staff to give a complete list of the specific model numbers of the products involved in each of these corrective actions. Consumers who believe that they have a product affected by one of these actions should follow the instructions given in this list or contact either the manufacturer or the Commission to determine if their product is one of those affected.

Re: SlingKing water balloon slingshots

Dear Mr. Ford:

Since November 1995, your written and telephone correspondence with Jean Kennedy have indicated that you would be sending us samples of your products with the new labeling.

The Division of Corrective Actions staff has requested that every manufacturer and importer of water balloon slingshots take corrective action to prevent future serious eye injuries. The labels on the pouch and the packaging were requested to be placed on all products as soon as possible. This February you stated that you would be making the pouches in March and would send us samples.

On July 3, 1996 Jean Kennedy requested samples again and you faxed a picture of the Sling King pouch with our requested warning at the bottom of that fax. However, that warning was not in conformance with the agreed-to warning sent to you by fax on 9/28/95, which provided specific letter sizes to be used for an effective warning to users of this product.

The Office of Compliance staff requests that you respond in writing as to the status of your corrective action plan with respect to the labels on Sling King water balloon slingshots within five (5) days. This matter of a potential serious hazard with your products has been pending for almost a year and is of concern to us on behalf of the public.
