Ms. Katherine E. Morgan
President
ASTM International
100 Barr Harbor Drive
West Conshohocken, PA 19428

Dear Ms. Morgan:

Thank you for your letter of August 22, 2022, notifying the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) of publication of a revised standard, ASTM F2613-22, Standard Consumer Safety Specification for Children's Chairs and Stools.<sup>1</sup>

On November 8, 2022, the Commission voted unanimously (4-0) to reject an update incorporating ASTM F2613-22, as recommended by staff.<sup>2,3</sup> The Commission determined that ASTM F2613-22 does not improve the safety of children's folding chairs and children's folding stools, compared to the previous standard, ASTM F2613-1.<sup>4</sup> Chairman Hoehn-Saric's statement is included in the Record of Commission Action (cited in footnote 2 below).

The Commission, accordingly, is retaining the existing standard for children's folding chairs and folding stools at 16 CFR part 1232, which incorporates by reference ASTM F2613-21, Standard Consumer Safety Specification for Children's Chairs and Stools, with no modifications (86 FR 26654).
