This meeting was led by the Chairman of the Subcommittee, Bill Tobin, Lamplight, Inc. The task group discussed the comments and a negative from the ballot. The task group made editorial changes to the draft standard to address comments and items in the negative. The main outstanding from the negative was on the use of the wording "Young children have mistaken this product for a drink and died" on the warning labels. Prior to the next meeting, task group members plan to review the draft and make suggestions on any changes needed to finalize the language for reballot. Task group members also agreed to edit the example warning labels so that their formatting is consistent with requirements. The task group plans to meet again in April and reballot the draft standard in May.
