The work group was formed to review requirements for ANSI C18.1 Part 2, annexes for non-lithium button cell packaging and use of the IEC pictogram requirements. Ms. Stuart provided the draft from ANSI C18.3 Part 2 for lithium coin cells as a starting point. Reference to death and 2 hours was removed from the warning label since there was no known deaths associated with the non-lithium button cells at this time. CPSC staff proposed keeping serious injury in the warning label because it is a possible outcome that should be warned against. It was proposed that the safety alert symbol and "WARNING" signal word be changed to "CAUTION." The participants agreed to review what is recommended in ANSI Z535.4 for signal words.

Ms. Stuart proposed to circulate changes to review before the next teleconference which will be scheduled prior to the next SC meetings in June.
