

US Consumer Product Safety Commission Log of Meeting

Subject: CSA Technical Subcommittee Meeting on Domestic Gas Ranges

Date: June 15, 2021

Location: Teleconference

Prepared By: Chen-hsiang Su (csu@cpsc.gov, 301-987-2529), June 15, 2021

CPSC Attendees: Scott Ayers and Chen-hsiang Su

Non-CPSC Attendees: Contact CSA for a list of attendees

Summary of Meeting:

Contact CSA for more details on this meeting.

This was a continuing meeting of the CSA Domestic Gas Ranges Technical Subcommittee (TSC) meeting from April 16, 2021. Scott Ayers chaired the meeting.

The TSC reviewed and discussed the revised proposal presented by the Smart Appliances Task Force. The TSC generally agreed to revert back to the original proposal presented in April 2021 and requested the task force to revise the original proposal to not prohibit the cook top remote operation (except turning on and turning off). The task force will have a meeting next week to discuss the revision. For the purpose of future revision cycle, the TSC asked Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers (AHAM) to provide a proposal regarding the remote operation of the cook top.

The TSC reviewed a Request for Change to move all test methods into the Method of Test section for consistency. The TSC generally agreed to accept the request and formed a task force to rearrange the text.

The TSC reviewed a Request for Change to remove the 4-inch Combustion Test. The TSC generally agreed to accept the request.

The next meeting will be held at the call of CSA and the Chair when needed. In such case, CSA will send out a doodle poll to finalize the date and time.