SUMMARY OF MEETING:

This meeting was led by the Chair of the task group, Jarrod Kuhn, Sterno. A summary of the meeting is below.

CPSC staff pointed out that the title of the standard suggests that the standard covers only test methods for devices. Therefore, staff recommended that the title of the standard be changed to accurately reflect what the standard covers - lamp, torch, and candle devices. Staff noted that the standard will contain test methods for these devices. The task group continued to review comments on various sections of the draft standard, including the section on terminology and closure requirements and the Chair incorporated agreed upon comments into the standard.

Action Item

- CPSC staff will research example standards that presents options for satisfying the requirements of a standard.
