STATEMENT OF COMMISSIONER ELLIOT F. KAYE ON PRESIDENT JOE BIDEN'S INTENT TO NOMINATE ALEXANDER HOEHN-SARIC AND MARY BOYLE TO SERVE ON THE U.S. CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION

July 6, 2021

I wish to extend my sincere congratulations to Mr. Alexander Hoehn-Saric and Ms. Mary Boyle following President Joe Biden's announcement that he intends to nominate Mr. Hoehn-Saric to serve as the 11th Chairman of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) and Ms. Boyle as a CPSC Commissioner.

Mr. Hoehn-Saric's deep passion for safety, extensive consumer safety background, and broad skill set will serve American consumers extremely well and will be a great benefit to the CPSC staff.

Ms. Boyle has honorably filled a variety of positions at the CPSC, including currently serving as the CPSC's Executive Director. She will bring considerable knowledge, thoughtfulness, and agency expertise to this new role.

Their incredible depths of knowledge and passion for consumer safety will be needed to meet the safety challenges facing the agency, and I am hopeful that they will receive swift confirmations to these critical leadership roles.
