25-F-00222	01/16/2025	Soothe Beginnings	FOIA	I am requesting all documents, reports, datasets, and communications from 2015 to the most recent date regarding pacifier safety and recalls. 25-F-00223	01/03/2025	Kaplan Fox	FOIA	Our law firm is presently conducting an investigation on behalf of consumers who have purchased now-recalled side-by-side Utility Task Vehicles (“UTVs”) known as the 2024 MULE PRO-FXTM, PRO-FXRTM, and PRO-FXTTM 1000 (“2024 Mule”) from Kawasaki Motors Corp., U.S.A. (“Kawasaki Motors”). All the Mules at issue have an identical engine manufactured by Kawasaki Heavy Duty Industries (USA), Inc. (“Kawasaki Heavy Duty”) (collectively with Kawasaki Motors, “Kawasaki”). The 2024 Mules were sold at Kawasaki dealers nationwide from June 2023 through April 2024 for $ 15,099 to $21,899. In April 2024, Kawasaki sent a notice to all buyers of the 2024 Mules, including Plaintiffs, that “Kawasaki is investigating improper combustion during engine start up potentially creating a fire risk on 2024 MULE PRO-FX, PRO-FXR & PRO-FXT 1000 models.” The Stop Use Notice specifically instructed owners: “DO NOT DRIVE YOUR MULE PRO-FX/FXR/FXT UNTIL AN AUTHORIZED REPAIR HAS BEEN COMPLETED.” On July 25, 2024—three months later—the 2024 Mules became the subject of recall number 24-312 (the “2024 Mule Recall”). The 2024 Mule Recall provides that “Kawasaki has received three reports of fires occurring during engine start up.” The 2024 Mule Recall provides the following alleged remedy for consumers unable to use their newly-purchased and unfortunately-combustible 2024 Mules: “Consumers should immediately stop using the recalled utility vehicles and contact a Kawasaki dealer to schedule a free repair. A technician will reprogram the ECU and install a sub-harness on the vehicle. Kawasaki is contacting all known purchasers directly.” During the three months prior to the 2024 Mule Recall, and continuing to today, Kawasaki has not offered any temporary alternative vehicle or offered compensation other than the offer of a $500 credit to be spent on accessories for the 2024 Mules, all to Kawasaki’s benefit, and a cost to Kawasaki of far less than the amount of the credit. This is especially true because many accessories for the 2024 Mules cost in excess of the $500 credit. Under the Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA”), 5 U.S.C. § 552, I hereby request copies of the following documents, to the extent such exist, for the time period June 1, 2023, to date: 1. All documents previously released in recent FOIA requests to any news publication or any other organization concerning the 2024 Mule Recall.	(b)(7)(A)	Denied in Full	03/17/2025

The case file may include the CPSC's correspondence with Fisher Price (or vice versa), updated correspondence with its new IP owner, Mattel, information on choking deaths, the number of injuries, and internal CPSC correspondence regarding the product, and contact reports to and from the CPSC up to today. □ The product was available for purchase from approximately 1960s to 1991. Because of board "vintage" regifting, issues continue into today. □ For the FOIA officer: The Fisher Price Little People (original design) has a broad range of historical lawsuits, children choking deaths, and interactions with CPSC, which is believed to have motivated choking labels and updates to the tools used from the mid-1990s - but it remains unclear. Because of its extensive range and historical safety importance, it is likely a central preserved/perpetual archival CPSC file exists on the topic. □ This FOIA asks for a search related to locating a centralized case file (even partially) - this FOIA does not ask for a broad document search on the topic within the whole CPSC. □ If a case folder exists, I request a digital copy of all its files.
