Report to the President and Congress Pursuant to Section 209 of the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008

The United States Consumer Product Safety Commission (“CPSC” or “the Commission”) is submitting this report to the President, Congress, and the public, as required under section 27(j) (15 U.S.C. 2076(j)) of the Consumer Product Safety Act (“CPSA”), as amended by the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 (“CPSIA”). The content of this report is specified in the CPSA, as amended by the CPSIA. The report describes many of the activities the CPSC performed to protect the public from hazardous consumer products in fiscal year 2015 (“2015”). Readers may also be interested in the CPSC’s 2015 Annual Performance Report, required by the Government Performance and Results Act and available on the CPSC’s website at: www.cpsc.gov/en/About-CPSC/Agency-Reports/.

The CPSC, established by Congress in 1972, is the federal regulatory body tasked with protecting the public from unreasonable risks of injuries or death associated with consumer products. The Commission has been effective in reducing consumer product-related injury and death rates by using a wide range of strategies to identify and address product safety hazards. This report is organized around the five strategies noted below:

- Hazard Identification and Monitoring: collecting information and monitoring injury and death statistics related to the use of products under the CPSC’s jurisdiction;
- Safety Standards: participating in the development and strengthening of voluntary safety standards and developing mandatory standards;
- Compliance and Enforcement: enforcing compliance with standards through compliance activities, such as recalls or other corrective actions, and litigating when necessary;
- Public Outreach: educating consumers, families, foreign governments, and industry about product safety recalls, safety programs and alerts, emerging hazards, and safety standards; and
- Intergovernmental Coordination: coordinating work on product safety issues with other governmental stakeholders.

Hazard Identification and Monitoring

The Commission, in fulfilling its mission to protect the public against unreasonable risks of injuries associated with consumer products, collects, reviews, and analyzes data on deaths, injuries, and societal costs associated with such products. This section describes the “Incidence of Injury and Effects to the Population” associated with products under the jurisdiction of the Commission. Four tables present summary data by totals and by age groups for:

- product-related deaths;
- product-related injuries;
- percent of emergency department visits involving product-related injuries resulting in hospitalization; and
- estimated costs of product-related injuries.

Product-Related Deaths (Table 1). The CPSC collects mortality data through contracts with each state. The CPSC reviews about 8,000 death certificates each year, from all 50 states and the District of Columbia, covering unintentional product-related deaths. The CPSC purchases death certificates that have a high probability of consumer product involvement. However, due to resource constraints, we cannot purchase all product-related death certificates; and because the death certificates we purchase sometimes fail to identify the products involved, the total number of actual product-related deaths may be higher than the number we report. Although the deaths in this table represent product involvement, such involvement does not necessarily indicate causality.

Product-Related Injuries (Tables 2 and 3). Each year, the CPSC collects information about product-related injuries through its National Electronic Injury Surveillance System (“NEISS”). This unique system provides statistically valid national estimates of product-related injuries from a probability sample of hospital emergency departments (“EDs”); and NEISS is the foundation for many CPSC activities. These injury reports provide not only the means for estimating the magnitude of consumer product-related injuries in the United States, but also a resource for gathering additional information concerning the nature and potential cause of accidents. Annually, NEISS supplies information on almost 400,000 product-related cases from a sample of about 100 hospitals. The hospitals transmit incident information electronically; and in some cases, the data are available within 24 hours after an incident. Table 2 presents data on estimates of injuries associated with consumer products that resulted in hospital ED treatment. Table 3 presents estimates of the percent of such injuries that subsequently required hospitalization. Although the injuries in these tables represent product involvement, that involvement does not necessarily indicate causality.

Cost of Product-Related Injuries (Table 4). To estimate costs of hospital ED-treated, consumer product injuries, the CPSC employs its Revised Injury Cost Model. The costs noted in this report do not include the costs of consumer product-related injuries treated elsewhere, such as in physicians’ offices, health maintenance organizations, and freestanding urgent care clinics. Estimates also do not include the economic losses of fatalities associated with the use of consumer products. These losses may be substantial. Furthermore, cost estimates are not available for many acute and chronic illnesses associated with exposure to chemical hazards. The number and costs of these illnesses are expected to be large.

Products are aggregated into 15 product groupings for the deaths, injuries, and cost data presented (see pp. 7–8). These products are described in the NEISS Coding Manual, Directorate for Epidemiology, U.S. CPSC. The NEISS Coding Manual can be found online at: www.cpsc.gov/Media/Documents/Research--Statistics/NEISS-Injury-Data/NEISS-Coding-Manual.

Additional data are collected and analyzed to develop more detailed estimates concerning products for which Commission remedial action has been considered. Based on interviews with victims or witnesses, the Commission identifies causes of incidents, including the interactions among the persons involved, the products, and the environment. Using all of the available data, Commission staff periodically prepares hazard analysis reports for selected products. To learn whether a hazard analysis report for any particular product is available, or to receive general injury data reports or more detailed data than are included in this section, please visit: www.cpsc.gov/en/Research--Statistics/Injury-Statistics, or write to:

Table 1 - Deaths Associated with the Use of Certain Consumer ProductsOctober 1, 2011–September 30, 2012

This table presents the latest available estimates of deaths associated with, but not necessarily caused by, the use of consumer products. These estimates are derived from data taken from death certificates that the Commission purchases from the states. The time required for collection and processing varies by state; but the majority of death certificates are received within 2 years of the date of death.

Table 2 - Estimates of Hospital Emergency Department-Treated Injuries
Associated with the Use of Certain Consumer Products

October 1, 2013–September 30, 2014¹

This table presents the estimates of hospital emergency department-treated injuries associated with, but not necessarily caused by, the use of consumer products. It is based on data collected from a statistically representative sample of hospitals, as part of the Commission's National Electronic Injury Surveillance System ("NEISS"). The NEISS hospital sample has been updated periodically to take into account changes that have occurred in the NEISS sampling frame of emergency departments over time (e.g., including hospital emergency departments opened after the initial sampling frame was constructed). In addition, over time, there have been modifications to the definition of "in-scope injuries."

SAFETY STANDARDS

The Commission helps reduce consumer product hazards through the development of mandatory safety standards and staff involvement in the development and strengthening of voluntary safety standards. This section presents information about:

- mandatory safety standards in effect;
- voluntary safety standards for which staff provided monitoring or technical support; and
- research activities conducted by staff.

- 1) Mandatory Safety Standards: Mandatory standards are developed through rulemaking. Under most of the statutes the CPSC enforces, if a voluntary standard exists, then by law, the Commission may not issue a mandatory standard, unless it finds that the voluntary standard will not eliminate or adequately reduce the risk of injury or death, or determines that it is unlikely that there will be substantial compliance with the voluntary standard. During the rulemaking process, staff seeks input from all interested parties, including consumers, industry, and other government agencies. Mandatory standards generally are expressed in the form of performance requirements. Examples of products for which mandatory standards were under development in FY2015 include: portable generators, upholstered furniture, table saws, and firepots and fuel gels.
- 2) Voluntary Safety Standards: The CPSC's statutory authority requires the agency to rely on voluntary standards, rather than issue mandatory standards, whenever compliance with a voluntary standard would eliminate or adequately reduce the risk of injury identified, and it is likely there will be substantial compliance with the voluntary standard. CPSC staff works with organizations that facilitate the development of voluntary standards, participating in the development of voluntary standards at a number of stages in the process. First, staff submits recommendations to voluntary standards organizations for new standards or modifications of existing standards. After receiving CPSC staff recommendations, organizations may conduct technical assessments (as appropriate); publish a proposal for public comment; receive and evaluate comments; or publish a standard. This process may take months to several years to complete. Staff participates in the process by providing expert advice, technical assistance, and information based on data analyses of how deaths, injuries, or incidents occurred. During FY2015, the CPSC's voluntary standards policy did not permit staff to vote on proposed changes or new standards. Staff's comments, however, were considered throughout the process. On March 3, 2016, a final rule lifting this restriction went into effect.

The CPSIA added authority for the Commission, in certain cases, to specify by rule that a product or product class that does not comply with a voluntary standard constitutes a substantial product hazard under the CPSA. This facilitates obtaining corrective actions when products are found in commerce that do not comply with the voluntary standards.

- 3) Research Activities: CPSC staff conducts and sponsors many research and study projects to further the agency's activities to improve product safety and reduce or eliminate potential hazards associated with consumer products. Staff may use the findings from these projects to develop and refine the agency's positions on voluntary and mandatory product safety standards. Examples include research on technology to mitigate cooking fires, collaborative research with other federal agencies on nanotechnology, portable generators, seniors' hazards, furniture and television tipovers, and recreational off-highway vehicles.

Mandatory Rulemaking Activity in 2015

Publication of the following final rules was approved by the Commission in 2015:

- Extension Cords. On July 21, 2015, the Commission voted unanimously (5-0), to approve publication in the Federal Register of the draft final rule, as drafted, to amend the Commission's rule at 16 C.F.R. part 1120, Substantial Product Hazard List, to specify that extension cords (both indoor- and outdoor-use extension cords) that do not contain all applicable readily observable characteristics (minimum wire size, sufficient strain relief, proper polarization, proper continuity, outlet covers for 2-wire indoor cords, and jacketed cords for outdoor extension cords) set forth in the rule, as described in the voluntary standard, Underwriters Laboratories ("UL"), Standard for Cord Sets and Power-Supply Cords, UL 817, 11th Edition, dated March 16, 2001, as revised through February 3, 2014, are deemed a substantial product hazard under section 15j of the Consumer Product Safety Act.
- Seasonal and Decorative Lighting Products. On April 28, 2015, the Commission voted unanimously (5-0), to approve publication in the Federal Register of the draft final rule, as drafted, to state that seasonal and decorative lighting products that do not contain one or more of three readily observable characteristics (minimum wire size, sufficient strain relief, or overcurrent protection), as set forth in UL Standard for Safety for Seasonal and Holiday Decorative Products, UL 588, 18th Edition, constitute a substantial product hazard under section 15j of the Consumer Product Safety Act.
- Durable Infant or Toddler Products - The Danny Keysar Child Product Safety Notification Act, Section 104 of the CPSIA, requires the CPSC to promulgate consumer product safety standards for durable infant or toddler products. These standards are to be "substantially the same as" applicable voluntary standards or more stringent than the voluntary standard if the Commission determines that more stringent requirements would further reduce the risk of injury associated with the product. In 2015, the CPSC promulgated one safety standard for children's products:
 - Frame Child Carriers. On May 16, 2014, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rulemaking ("NPR") for frame child carriers. 79 FR 28458. The NPR proposed to incorporate by reference the voluntary standard, ASTM F2549-14, Standard Consumer Safety Specification for Frame Child Carriers, with one proposed substitute provision that would provide clear pass/fail criteria for an existing test. ASTM International (formerly the American Society for Testing and Materials), subsequently revised and published ASTM F2549-14a, which includes the clear pass/fail criteria for an existing test, which were proposed in the NPR. On February 18, 2015, the Commission voted unanimously (5-0), to approve the draft final rule, which incorporated this latest version. The final rule was published in the Federal Register on March 3, 2015, with an effective date of September 2, 2015.
- Portable Gasoline Containers. The Children's Gasoline Burn Prevention Act (the Act) requires that portable gasoline containers manufactured on or after January 17, 2009 for sale in the United States must conform to ASTM F2517-05's child-resistance requirements for closures on portable gasoline containers. The Act also addresses revisions of those child-resistance requirements. Specifically, ASTM is required to notify the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (Commission) of the proposed revision. "[U]nless, within 60 days of such notice, the Commission notifies ASTM that the Commission has determined that such revision does not carry out the purposes of [the Act's provision regarding child-resistance requirements],” then the proposed revision to the ASTM standard “shall be incorporated” as a consumer product safety rule. On February 11, 2015, ASTM notified the Commission that ASTM had revised ASTM F2517. On March 18, 2015, the Commission voted unanimously (5-0) to allow ASTM’s revision to the child-resistance requirements in ASTM F2517-15 to be incorporated into the mandatory consumer product safety rule for closures on portable gasoline containers. The Commission voted (3-2) to approve publication in the Federal Register of the direct final rule (DFR), as drafted, incorporating by reference the child resistance requirements of ASTM F2517-15. Chairman Kaye and Commissioners Adler and Robinson voted to approve publication of the DFR as drafted. Commissioners Buerkle and Mohorovic voted to approve publication of the DFR with changes.

2) Voluntary Safety Standards

The CPSC issues the Voluntary Standards Tracking and Access Report (“VSTAR”) on a semi-annual basis. The report includes the objective of each standard under development, the name of the employee involved in the activity, the status of the standard, and the next step planned in the standard development process. A summary from the VSTAR FY 2015 annual report is provided below for convenience. The Web address for the report is:

www.cpsc.gov/Global/Newsroom/FOIA/CommissionBriefingPackages/2016/VoluntaryStandardsActivitiesFY2015AnnualReport.pdf.

Thirty new, revised, or reaffirmed voluntary safety standards, monitored or supported technically by U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (“CPSC”) staff, were completed from October 1, 2014 to September 30, 2015. These safety standards address: batteries (lithium), toddler beds, candles (2 standards), youth folding chairs, drywall, furniture tipover (2 standards), cooktops, helmets (8 standards), child resistant portable fuel containers, vented gas fireplaces, gas grills (4), changing tables, high chairs, infant incline sleep products, infant gates and other enclosures, liquid laundry packets, hook-on chairs, and bouncer seats.

In total, from October 1, 2014 to September 30, 2015, CPSC staff provided technical support or was otherwise actively engaged in the development of 81 voluntary safety standards activities, which are described in this report. Of the 81, two were added during the mid-year time frame (bicycles and tents). In addition, staff monitored two other activities during the reporting period (pools, portable unprotected and washing machines, front loading).

During the reporting period, CPSC staff’s involvement in voluntary standards focused predominantly on voluntary standards activities associated with implementing the CPSIA. Voluntary standards development activities are handled primarily by three standards development/coordinating organizations: ASTM International (“ASTM”), the American National Standards Institute (“ANSI”), and Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (“UL”). The standards developed using the procedures of these three groups provide safety provisions that address potential hazards associated with consumer products found in homes, schools, and recreation areas.

3) Research Activities

Commission staff conducts studies and investigates deaths, injuries, diseases, and economic costs associated with consumer products. This research is used to identify hazardous products and design effective strategies to reduce product hazards. In 2015, CPSC staff conducted or participated in the following research:

ATV Annual Data Update: Staff prepared the annual report on ATV-related deaths and injuries. The report includes data on reported deaths by state, relative risk of death by year, and injuries distributed by year and age grouping. The report is available on the CPSC website at: www.cpsc.gov//Global/Research-and-Statistics/Injury-Statistics/Sports-and-Recreation/ATVs/2014atvannualreport.pdf.

Carbon Monoxide-Related Annual Updates: Staff prepared the annual report on carbon monoxide (“CO”) fatalities associated with consumer products. The report is available at: www.cpsc.gov//Global/Research-and-Statistics/Injury-Statistics/Carbon-Monoxide-Positioning/2012NonFireCODeaths.pdf.

Chemical Toxicity Assessments: In 2015, staff continued to study emissions from spray polyurethane foam insulation through an interagency agreement with the National Institute of Standards and Technology (“NIST”). Staff also presented posters and seminars at scientific conferences on: CPSC’s research activities on spray polyurethane foam; alternative testing methods; and adverse outcome pathways. Staff began to survey selected children’s products for the presence of flame-retardant chemicals. Two contractor reports reviewed the available data on human exposure to flame-retardant chemicals. Staff compiled a database on “wearable technology” products. Two contractor reports reviewed the potential health effects of mold; the third mold report will be completed in 2016. Staff presented at the EPA Biennial Meeting on Indoor Air Quality. Staff finalized a Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) with the EPA National Center for Environmental Assessment (“NCEAA”)

Cook Tops: Staff issued a contractor report for Refinement of Temperature-Limiting Control Systems for Preventing Oil Ignition on Gas and Electric Cooktops: www.cpsc.gov//Global/Research-and-Statistics/Technical-Reports/Home/Kitchen/CPSCCooktopControlsRefinementFinalReport.pdf.

Staff also published a response from the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers: www.cpsc.gov//Global/Research-and-Statistics/Technical-Reports/Home/Kitchen/AHAMCommentsCPSCPrimairaCooktopControlsRefinement%20Report.pdf

The report, 2014 Fireworks Annual Report, Fireworks-Related Deaths, Emergency Department-Treated Injuries, and Enforcement Activities During 2014, is available on the CPSC website at: www.cpsc.gov//Global/Research-and-Statistics/Injury-Statistics/Fuel-Lighters-and-Fireworks/Fireworks_Report_2014.pdf.

Staff also completed analyses of the CPSC fireworks regulations and began preparing a briefing package to the Commission, with recommendations for updating the CPSC's fireworks regulations. The briefing package is expected to go to the Commission during FY 2016.

Firepots: Staff continued characterization work on firepots and fuels intended to be used with firepots to support developing a notice of proposed rulemaking ("NPR"), and staff also pursued voluntary standards, including a request to restructure a working group and staff made recommendations for specific requirements for portable liquid or gel-fueled fireplaces not covered by UL 1370. www.cpsc.gov/PageFiles/182039/UL-Letter-Portable-Fireplaces.pdf.

This report is published on CPSC's website at: www.cpsc.gov//Global/Research-and-Statistics/Injury-Statistics/Amusement-Rides/InflatableAmusementsDeathsandInjuries2015.pdf.

Lead in Paint and Substrate Materials: Staff continued to study the applicability of different types of x-ray fluorescence ("XRF") for measuring lead in paint and substrate materials.

Nanotechnology:

Airborne Nanoparticles from Consumer Products: Researchers from the National Institute for Standards and Technology ("NIST") completed a final report on testing to determine the release of nanoparticles into indoor air from a range of paints and coating materials. This project is the second phase of an initial agreement signed in 2011; and the project will meet an important objective in developing methods to distinguish engineered nanoparticles from nanoparticles that may be produced incidentally in the home. In 2014, NIST submitted a report to CPSC staff outlining new approaches for abrading products and conducted chamber measurements for airborne particles. In 2015, NIST began developing models to predict nanoparticle concentrations in indoor air, and resulting exposures to consumers (NIST 2015a). NIST researchers continue to work with the ASTM Committee E56 on Nanotechnology to incorporate test methods into the voluntary standards that were developed from their efforts.

Carbon Nanotubes in Consumer Products: NIST, under a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") with the CPSC, continued its testing of selected consumer products containing nanotubes. This work is also being used to support the International Life Sciences Institute's ("ILSI's") nanorelease project, which is developing methods to test the release of carbon nanotubes from a variety of product matrices. In 2015, NIST completed two reports, including a final report on nanotubes in sports equipment (NIST 2015c) and an interim report on carbon nanotubes in other consumer products and textiles (NIST 2015b). In addition, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (“ACE”) submitted an interim report on carbon nanotubes in consumer products (ACE 2015).

Enhancement of the National Library of Medicine (“NLM”) Household Products

Database: The National Library of Medicine (“NLM”), under an existing MOU with the CPSC, is continuing its efforts to identify approaches to enhance the Household Products Database (“HPD”) and its associated websites. Through the work conducted under the MOU, NLM is developing information that will provide consumers and scientists with knowledge about the uses of nanomaterials in products and the health effects of nanoparticles. The information can be found at the following links:

toxtown.nlm.nih.gov/text_version/chemicals.php?id=67 and sis.nlm.nih.gov/enviro/nanotechnology.html. NLM continues to update the website with new information for the general public on the use and implications of nanotechnology.

Nanomaterials in Consumer Products (Exposure and Risk Assessment): In 2015, CPSC signed an MOU with DOD/Army Corps of Engineers to provide additional support for this activity. DOD is developing a computer model to predict the potential health effects of nanomaterials.

Nanomaterials in Aerosol Products: The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (“NIOSH”) and the Harvard University School of Public Health are investigating nanoparticles incorporated into inks and toners used in home office equipment. In 2015, NIOSH published two peer-reviewed articles, one on consumer exposure (Pirella et al. 2014) and one on health effects in vitro (Sisler et al. 2014).

Nanomaterials in Products and Public Health: The NSF completed an interim report on the results of a study on the release of nanomaterials from clothing during consumer-use scenarios. The study was conducted under an IAG with the NSF. In 2015, NSF submitted to CPSC staff an annual interim report describing the progress of the research (Manielis 2014). In 2012, CPSC staff signed an IAG with the U.S. EPA to evaluate the release of nanoparticles from wood products. In December 2014, EPA released a report outlining this research (EPA 2014). In 2015, EPA submitted an article for publication in a peer-reviewed journal, which was subsequently published in 2016 (Platten et al. 2016).

Nanosilver in Consumer (Children’s) Products: Work based on research begun in 2012 continued. In 2012, scientists at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (“EPA”), NIOSH, and Virginia Tech completed a draft report on the use of nanosilver in selected consumer products. Research confirmed the presence of silver nanoparticles in a wide range of consumer products primarily used by children. The results of this work were published in peer-reviewed journals in 2014 and 2015 (Tulve et al. 2015). In 2012, CPSC staff signed an interagency agreement with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”) to identify releases of nanosilver and other nanomaterials from various food contact products. In 2014, FDA staff published an article in a peer-reviewed journal (Ntim et al. 2015).

Nursery Products Annual Update: Staff completed its report on nursery product-related injuries and deaths of children under age 5. The report, Injuries and Deaths Associated with Nursery Products Among Children Younger than Age Five, is located on the CPSC website at: www.cpsc.gov/Global/Research-and-Statistics/Injury-Statistics/Toys/NurseryProductsAnnualReport2015.pdf.

Portable Generators: Staff continued to work with the UL Task Group to address CO hazards posed by portable generators, and commented on the Portable Generator Manufacturers' Association's ("PGMA's") safety standard development at: www.cpsc.gov/Regulations-Laws--Standards/Voluntary-Standards/Portable-Generators. Staff also continued to develop information to support a notice of proposed rulemaking on portable generators.

Recreational Off-Highway Vehicles ("ROVs"): CPSC staff continued testing that began in 2012, and developed materials to support a notice of proposed rulemaking for ROVs. Staff also made efforts in 2014 to address occupant protection and rollover propensity through voluntary standards activities. Three technical reports from 2015 about ROVs can be found at: www.cpsc.gov/en/Research--Statistics/Sports--Recreation/ATVs/Technical-Reports, and many voluntary standards communications from 2015 can be found at www.cpsc.gov/Regulations-Laws--Standards/Voluntary-Standards/Recreational-Off-Highway-Vehicles.

Residential Fire Losses: Staff estimated the number of unintentional consumer product-related fires, civilian casualties, and property losses that were assisted by the fire service between 2010 and 2012. This report is published on CPSC's website at: www.cpsc.gov/Global/Research-and-Statistics/Injury-Statistics/Fuel-Lighters-and-Fireworks/20102012ResidentialFireLossEstimates.pdf.

Senior Hazards: CPSC partnered with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS") on the 2015 Healthy Aging Summit to maximize CPSC's exposure to the variety of stakeholders attending the conference. The Summit covered a wide range of topics related to aging and safety, including the science of aging, the benefits of social engagement, and the impact of isolation and age-friendly communities. In addition, the Summit provided a forum for CPSC to solicit information to help address the risks to the senior population from consumer products. Staff completed a report on CPSC's participation in senior safety activities. The report was posted on CPSC's website and is available at: www.cpsc.gov/pagefiles/114560/seniorsafetyreportsept282015.pdf.

Staff wrote a letter supporting UL's proposed addition of an Active Injury Mitigation System ("AIMS") to UL's voluntary standard: <http://www.cpsc.gov/Global/Regulations-Laws-and-Standards/Voluntary-Standards/Voluntary-Standards-Reports/CPSCletterULcommentAIMSproposal.pdf>. The proposal failed to gain consensus.

Toys Annual Update: Staff completed the report, Toy-Related Deaths and Injuries, Calendar Year 2014. The report was posted on the CPSC's website, coinciding with a public safety announcement about toys, and is available at:

www.cpsc.gov//Global/Research-and-Statistics/Injury-Statistics/Toys/ToyReport2014.pdf.

Window Blind Cords: On October 8, 2014, the Commission approved (5-0), a petition requesting a mandatory standard for corded window coverings; and on January 9, 2015, the Commission approved (5-0), an ANPR for corded window coverings. Staff hosted a meeting with engineers from member companies of the Window Covering Manufacturers Association (“WCMA”) to discuss the technologies associated with window covering safety, and wrote a letter urging WCMA to reopen the ANSI/WCMA A100.1-2014 American National Standard for Corded Window Covering Products to develop revised performance requirements that will address comprehensively the strangulation hazard to children; see: www.cpsc.gov//Global/Regulations-Laws-and-Standards/Voluntary-Standards/Voluntary-Standards-Reports/WCMALetter28Oct2015.pdf.

Compliance and Enforcement

The CPSC learns about potential product defects and risks from many sources, including incident reports, consumer complaints, the agency's Hotline, and SaferProducts.gov. In addition, firms are required legally to report to the Commission about potential product defects, hazards, or violations of standards. The Commission works with companies to remove products from the marketplace when the products violate mandatory safety standards or have a defect which creates a substantial risk of injury. This section presents:

- Voluntary recall orders taken by importers or manufacturers;
- Letters of Advice to importers and manufacturers; and
- Commission determinations and judicial actions.

1) Voluntary Recall Orders Taken by Importers or Manufacturers: Through investigations of potential product defects, CPSC headquarters and field staff identify defective products not covered by regulations. In addition, firms, by law, are required to report potential product hazards or violations of standards to the Commission. When a recall is necessary, Compliance staff negotiates with the responsible firm. In 2015, CPSC staff completed 410 cooperative recalls (100 percent voluntary) of products that either violated mandatory standards, or were defective and presented a substantial risk of injury to the public. If a firm refuses to recall a product voluntarily, the CPSC may file an administrative complaint seeking to require a recall. This section lists the voluntary recalls announced in 2015 that companies performed to address possible hazards.

The CPSC developed the Fast-Track program to streamline the process of recalls for firms willing and prepared to recall their products quickly. Because every defective product could present a risk of injury or death, removing hazardous products from the marketplace faster can prevent more injuries and save lives. In 2015, 217 of the total 410 recalls were under the Fast-Track program. Recalls under the Fast-Track program are conducted without the need for time-consuming hazard analyses. In 2015, Fast-Track recalls were initiated within 20 days of a firm's report to the CPSC 97.3 percent of the time.

2) Letters of Advice to Importers or Manufacturers: For products regulated by the CPSC, the Commission issues a Letter of Advice ("LOA") when staff identifies a violation of a mandatory standard. LOAs advise the company of the violation and the nature of the necessary corrective action (to correct future production ("CFP"); to stop sale and CFP; or to recall, stop sale, and CFP). This section lists the LOAs sent to importers and manufacturers in 2015, in which the Commission received a response from the company confirming the violation, and the Commission decided that the company voluntarily completed corrective action to remedy the hazard.

Commission Determinations and Judicial Actions: When companies knowingly violate section 19 of the CPSA, the CPSC can seek civil penalties in U.S. courts. Examples of violations include, but are not limited to, failing to report potential product hazards or violations of standards to the Commission, as required by law; misrepresentations; selling recalled goods; and the unauthorized use of a certification mark. In 2015, the CPSC negotiated out-of-court settlements with 10 companies that voluntarily agreed to pay a total of $26.4 million in civil penalties to the U.S. Treasury.

- 3) Other tools used for enforcement may include: civil actions under either section 12 or section 15, and pursuing criminal cases, where appropriate. Enforcement and litigation activities are listed in several tables in this section of the report.

1) Voluntary Recall Actions Taken by Importers or Manufacturers

Headquarters and field staff identify defective products not covered by regulations through their investigations of potential product defects. In addition, firms are required by law to report to the Commission about potential product hazards or violations of standards. When a recall is necessary, Compliance staff negotiates with the responsible firm. In 2015, CPSC staff completed 410 cooperative recalls (100 percent voluntary) of products that either violated mandatory standards or were defective and presented a substantial risk of injury to the public. If a firm refuses to recall a product voluntarily, the CPSC may file an administrative complaint seeking to require a recall. This section lists the voluntary recalls announced in 2015, which were performed by companies to address possible hazards.

3) Commission Determinations and Judicial Actions

The CPSC can seek civil penalties when companies knowingly fail to report to the Commission potential product hazards, unreasonable risks or a failure to comply with a rule, regulation, standard or ban, as required under section 15(b) of the CPSA, or knowingly violate any prohibited act in violation of section 19 of the CPSA. The Commission has the authority to compromise any civil penalty or file suit in federal court requesting that the U.S. Department of Justice seek a civil penalty or other relief. In 2015, the CPSC negotiated out-of-court settlements in which 10 companies voluntarily agreed to pay a total of $26.4 million in civil penalties to the U.S. Treasury.

The Commission has a variety of enforcement authorities, including the ability to take legal action under section 12 (to seize an imminently hazardous consumer product) or seek a mandatory order under section 15(c) or 15(d) of the CPSA (to protect the public from products that present a substantial product hazard or order a recall or other corrective action as appropriate, respectively). The Commission may also request that the U.S. Department of Justice pursue criminal penalties against offenders. Enforcement and litigation activities of the Commission are listed in several tables below.

Lawsuits Filed Seeking Mandatory Recall Remedies Under Section 15 of the CPSA

In the Matter of Zen Magnets, LLC, CPSC Docket 12-2

The case was initiated by a complaint filed on August 6, 2012, which sought a determination that the small, rare earth magnets constitute a substantial product hazard and also sought mandatory recall remedies for consumers. An administrative hearing was held from December 1-17, 2014, and parties filed post hearing briefs on March 16, 2015. The matter is ongoing. For more information on this case, visit the CPSC website at www.cpsc.gov/en/Recalls/Recall-Lawsuits/Adjudicative-Proceedings.

Commission Determined Imminent Hazards - Section 12 of the CPSA

There were no instances in FY 2015 where the Commission took action under section 12 of the CPSA.

U.S. v. Spectrum Brands, Inc. , Case No. 3:15-cv-00371 (W.D. Wisc.)	Issue/Statute: Knowing failure to report information required by section 15(b) of the CPSA, 15 U.S.C. § 2064(b), in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 2068(a)(4), § 2069 and § 2071; Knowing sale of recalled products after a voluntary recall by the manufacturer, 15 U.S.C. § 2068(a)(2)(B), § 2069 and § 2071. This matter involves a Black & Decker® Spacemaker™ 12-Cup Programmable Under-the-Counter Coffeemaker. From January 2008 through April 2012, Appliqa/Spectrum manufactured and distributed approximately 150,000 coffeemakers, which were sold to retailers nationwide. The handle of the glass carafe was defective and resulted in approximately 1,600 reports of carafe handles breaking, at least 60 reports of burn injuries and three reports of lacerations. The government filed a complaint for civil penalties and permanent injunctive relief on June 17, 2015 in U.S. District Court for the Western District of Wisconsin. On August 14, 2015 Spectrum filed a motion to dismiss count IV of the government's complaint alleging a reasonable likelihood that Spectrum will continue to violate the CPSA and seeking permanent injunctive relief. The motion to

PUBLIC OUTREACH

The Commission communicates with the public about product-related hazards through print, broadcast, online and social media; its Hotline; Neighborhood Safety Network and other listservs; partnerships and events; and other outreach activities. The Commission also meets with stakeholders to discuss matters related to the mission of the CPSC. This section presents information on many of the activities used to provide safety information to consumers, industry and other stakeholders in 2015 through:

- consumer outreach;
- dissemination of technical information; and
- cooperation between Commission officials and stakeholders.

1) Consumer Outreach: The CPSC alerts the public through more than 300 recall announcements each year, print and video news releases, social media, public service announcements, publications, national and local television and radio appearances, the CPSC Hotline, Neighborhood Safety Network, and listservs. The CPSC also communicates with the public through various online media, including:

- CPSC websites www.CPSC.gov/also in Spanish, www.Recalls.gov (a joint site with other federal agencies), www.PoolSafely.gov, www.SaferProducts.gov and www.AnchorIt.gov;
- CPSC information centers (Fifteen centers including: cribs, CO, fireworks, in-home drowning, magnets, poison prevention, resale/thrift stores, window coverings);
- OnSafety blog OnSafety.CPSC.gov;
- recall widget (www.CPSC.gov/cgi-bin/javascripts/widgetrss.html); and
- social media sites (Flickr, Google+, Twitter/and in Spanish, SlideShare, YouTube/also in Spanish) including Twitter parties.

The number of visits to the CPSC's website, www.CPSC.gov, has grown rapidly from about 200,000 visits in 1997, to tens of millions of visits per year. The increase is due in part to CPSC's social media initiatives, YouTube, Twitter, Flickr, the OnSafety blog, the recall widget and a Spanish language presence on CPSC.gov, Twitter and YouTube.

The CPSC also alerts the public through other outreach activities, such as the Neighborhood Safety Network ("NSN"). This is a grassroots program that provides timely, lifesaving information to more than 9,000 organizations and individuals who, in turn, share CPSC safety posters, videos and news alerts with underserved consumers who otherwise might be unlikely to hear or receive information from the CPSC.

The Hotline is a toll-free service that allows consumers to report product complaints or product-related injuries, learn about recalls and safety hazards, and obtain safety publications. In 2015, the Hotline received more than 85,000 calls; 2,539 incidents were reported; requests for more than 313,000 publications were fulfilled; and 6,797 e-mails were processed.

The National Injury Information Clearinghouse provides data to the public in response to more than 500 requests each year. It also alerts manufacturers to potential hazards associated with their products, providing them with consumer complaints, reported incidents, and incident investigations involving their products.

In December 2008, the Virginia Graeme Baker Pool and Spa Safety Act (“VGB”), which addresses the hazards of child drowning and drain entrapment, went into effect. Since 2010, the CPSC has awarded an annual contract to develop and implement a comprehensive information and education campaign that teaches pool and spa safety steps that stress prevention of drowning and entrapment by engaging stakeholders as partners at the national and grassroots levels. Child safety experts work on public and residential drowning prevention programs for parents and children, and industry organizations share VGB compliance information with pool and spa owners and operators.

- 2) Dissemination of Technical Information: As part of the CPSC’s research activities and other support work, the Commission develops many technical reports and presentations to present findings and share ideas. These documents are very useful to other researchers and industry. The reports listed in this section were developed in 2015, and are available on the CPSC’s website.
- 3) Cooperation between Commission Officials and External Stakeholders: In the course of the year, the Commissioners and staff at the CPSC held meetings with consumers, industry, and the public on matters related to the mission of the CPSC. A list of meetings of “substantial interest” for 2015 is provided in this report. CPSC’s Meetings Policy defines “substantial interest” as “any issue that is likely to be the subject of a regulatory or policy decision by the Commission.” The Meetings Policy requires CPSC staff and Commissioners to: (1) announce meetings in advance on the Public Calendar; (2) hold meetings that are open to the public unless certain specified exceptions apply; and (3) submit meeting summaries to the Office of the Secretary. To access the Public Calendar, visit:
www.cpsc.gov/Newsroom/Public-Calendar/.

Conducted Public Information Efforts

In FY 2015, CPSC staff conducted the following public information efforts:

Back-to-School Safety: CPSC distributed CPSC’s Back-to-School safety YouTube video and the Back-to-School safety checklist through social media platforms, utilizing tweets and blogs, including the “Seven Things to Check for Back-to-School Safety” blog. CPSC staff posted resources to its website under the Safety Guides tab (www.CPSC.gov/Safety-Education/Safety-Guides) that include sport and recreation safety information, such as resources for bicycle, helmet, and trampoline safety. Also, staff presented school safety information to school administrators and owners, and federal partners monthly through the National Youth and Consumer Safety Council (“The Safety Council”). Staff also distributed safety resources and hosted exhibits and conferences including the Office of Communications’ Ohio pilot outreach and education campaign in Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio. CPSC also provided federal, state, and local partners, including the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (“NHTSA”), Safe Kids, and the Bicycle Helmet Institute, with school safety recall information on playgrounds and bicycles.

Bicycle/Helmet Safety: CPSC staff worked with the Safety Council, NHTSA, and other state and local partners to disseminate bicycle and bicycle helmet safety information and recalls. Also, CPSC's bicycle and bicycle helmet safety publications including "Sprocketman" comic book and "Which Helmet for Which Activity" were distributed to school administrators and parents' associations by CPSC staff at school, daycare, and minority outreach conferences including visits to Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus Ohio Urban League, social service organizations and Cincinnati Children's Hospital. CPSC staff exhibited at the Major League Baseball's All-Star Fanfest with over 10,000 visitors and distributed bicycle and helmet safety resources. CPSC issued bicycle/helmet and bicycle accessory press releases and distributed CPSC bicycle safety blogs, tweets and disseminated the Back-to-School safety video to the news media. Bicycle and bicycle helmet safety information was also highlighted in Back-to-School and Holiday Toy safety blogs.

CO Alarms: Throughout 2015, CPSC stressed the importance of installing CO alarms and replacing batteries in them annually. In connection with Daylight Saving Time, CPSC posted tweets and blogs urging consumers to replace batteries in their CO alarms. In October 2014, CPSC collaborated with the National Fire Protection Association ("NFPA") to launch a new CO safety toolkit with ready-to-use facts on CO alarms, a mini CO lesson and safety publications for firefighters and others. CPSC Commissioner Robert Adler announced the new toolkit at a press conference at a Philadelphia fire station with then-Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter, Philadelphia Fire Chief Derrick Sawyer and NFPA President Jim Pauley.

CO Poster Contest: CPSC announced the winners of a carbon monoxide safety poster contest for middle school students in May 2015. There were 700 posters submitted to CPSC on the dangers of carbon monoxide. CPSC staff selected 10 winning posters.

Community/Minority Campaign: In 2015, CPSC launched a new Community/Minority outreach campaign that targeted the state of Ohio. The goal was to educate underserved communities about drowning prevention, poison prevention, television and furniture tip-overs, safe sleep for babies and other hazards. Partnerships were developed through meetings with groups including: Nationwide and Cincinnati Children's Hospitals, Injury Free Coalition, Safe Kids, public health departments, police/fire departments and the Ohio Commission on Minority and Latin Affairs. The Community Outreach Resource ("COR") team hosted 18 face-to-face meetings, three community exhibits, participated in two safety events and coordinated two press events. The COR team also signed up 300 new NSN members, 100 new product safety partners and distributed baby safety resources/videos to 100 health and safety organizations. CPSC also collaborated with health and safety organizations including Injury Free coalition and Catholic Charities in Ohio, wrote an article for the Ohio Attorney General's "Consumer Advocate" newsletter that was distributed to over 16,000 state organizations on the four core safety topics (poison prevention, drowning prevention, safe to sleep for babies, and furniture and TV tip-overs), staff served as a child safety expert for a Child Injury Prevention Alliance Twitter chat with Nationwide Hospital and coordinated and hosted the World's Largest Swimming Lesson with the Josh Project in Ohio. Additionally, CPSC worked with schools, Head Start and the Urban League in Columbus and Cincinnati and hosted "safety days" with hospitals and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Cincinnati.

Fireworks Safety: On June 26, 2015, the CPSC launched its annual fireworks safety campaign on the National Mall in Washington, DC. New death and injury data showed an estimated 10,500 consumers were injured by fireworks in 2014. An estimated 67 percent of these estimated injuries occurring during the 30 days surrounding July 4 in 2014. There were 11 firework-related fatalities reported in 2014. CPSC held a news conference on the grounds of the National Mall in Washington, DC. CPSC fed a video news release (“VNR”) to stations nationwide via satellite on June 26 and 27, 2015. The VNR was used by television news stations nationwide and reached an estimated 16 million viewers. CPSC Chairman Kaye conducted a fireworks safety interview and demonstration with NBC’s Today Show, expanding audience reach. During the press conference, CPSC staff demonstrated the dangers associated with fireworks through mannequin simulations involving bottle rockets, sparklers, M-80’s and M-1,000’s.

Halloween Hazards: Staff began its Halloween safety efforts by issuing a blog with safety tips to prevent Halloween and costume-related falls, fires and burn injuries in October 2014. Staff conducted media interviews with local and national media, including ABC News, FOX and the Columbus Dispatch. A poster with parent-friendly safety tips was distributed to Neighborhood Safety Network members and posted on CPSC.gov. Twitter messages were sent to @USCPSC followers, and a Halloween video PSA was highlighted on the CPSC YouTube channel.

Holiday Cooking Safety: Staff held a press conference featuring a live cooking fire demonstration at CPSC’s National Product Testing and Evaluation Center to warn consumers about the dangers associated with Thanksgiving cooking fires and food safety. Speakers included CPSC Chairman Elliot Kaye, Deputy U.S. Fire Administrator Glenn Gaines, and USDA Deputy Under Secretary for Food Safety Brian Ronholm. CPSC’s media outreach received an estimated 125 million media impressions.

Holiday Decorating Safety: In December 2014, CPSC distributed a blog and launched a social media campaign to warn consumers about holiday decorating dangers that result in thousands of falls, lacerations and fires each year. CPSC released new data and tips that were picked up by national media, including Hearst and CNN Newsource who conducted interviews with CPSC representatives.

Holiday Shopping/Toy Safety: CPSC, Health Canada and Profeco (Mexico) hosted the first in agency history tri-lateral recall and toy safety event hosted in Ottawa, Canada. CPSC coordinated the tri-lateral toy safety press advisory, press release, press conference and lab visit. All communication materials were distributed in English and Spanish. The toy safety event also included a tri-lateral recall announcement of six million Graco strollers and an interview with ABC News. Additional national coverage was received via CPSC’s satellite media tour in Washington, D.C. and a social media outreach. Educational outreach was conducted through a toy safety interview with Ivanhoe Broadcasting which reaches millions of households through network affiliate stations, Sirius XM radio and over a dozen radio stations. The CPSC Executive Director’s toy safety blog was featured on ToysRUs.com. CPSC also utilized a toy safety infographic to reach consumers with toy safety information. Overall, toy safety media impressions included about 155 million audience reach in FY 2015.

Home Heating (CO hazards): In connection with Daylight Saving Time, CPSC posted tweets and a blog urging consumers to replace batteries in their CO alarms. CPSC also issued a blog in January 2015 with tips to help consumers safeguard against CO poisoning with portable generators during winter months.

Home Heating (Fire hazards): CPSC issued an OnSafety blog in December 2014 about protecting children from being burned by hot fireplace glass, which can reach temperatures of 500 to 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. The blog promoted the new ANSI standard requiring protective barriers on new gas fireplaces which went into effect on Jan. 1, 2015. CPSC urged consumers with older fireplaces to install protective barriers in front of the glass too. CPSC also issued tweets on home heating safety reminders during the winter months.

Poison Prevention: The third week of March is designated as National Poison Prevention Week. Chairman Kaye collaborated with EPA Administrator Gina McCarthy on a joint blog warning of hidden poison dangers in and around the home. CPSC issued a news release announcing a global awareness campaign with more than 10 countries and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (“OECD”). CPSC staff contributed to the Poison Prevention Week Council’s social media campaign, including daily themed Twitter messages and Facebook posts, using hashtag #PreventPoison.

Portable Gas Generators: CPSC issued a blog in January 2015 with tips to help consumers safeguard against CO poisoning with portable generators during winter months. Staff also tweeted generator safety tips in response to various power outages.

Tip-Overs/AnchorIt!: The Commission allocated $400,000 to the Office of Communications to fund a full-scale media and education campaign for AnchorIt! Although the official campaign launch was not until June 2015, the campaign scored the first major success with its Super Bowl outreach when the tip-over demo video became a YouTube hit resulting in more than 2 million views by the end of FY15. Television networks, blogs and major newspapers including the Washington Post (.com) ran the video. During fiscal year 2015, the Anchor It! campaign received more than 250 media stories in outlets such as the New York Times, the Washington Post, the Philadelphia Inquirer and the Today Show. The Anchor It! public service announcement was distributed nationally in June 2015 and it generated 80 million impressions worth more than $1 million. Consumer-friendly posters and tip cards describing tip-over dangers and remedies were distributed to more than 75,000 consumers through daycare and community centers nationwide. A new website, AnchorIt.gov was launched in June 2015 and serves as a resource hub for tip-over prevention information. Videos, data, media stories and free resources are located on the site.

SaferProducts.gov: CPSC staff promoted the use of incident data on SaferProducts.gov with the media. Staff also distributed SaferProducts.gov publications to targeted audiences, including first responders and health professionals at events.

Safety Publication Update: The CPSC issued three new or revised safety alert publications, including 250/250S AnchorIt! poster (English and Spanish versions) (new), 251/251S Anchor It! tip card (English and Spanish versions) (new) and 701 Handbook for Older Consumer Safety (revised).

Public Information and Education Campaign: In 2015, the CPSC conducted the following information and education activities to address child drowning and entrapment:

- A pre-Memorial Day First Splash launch was held on May 21, 2015 at the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C., where Chairman Kaye, Rep. Debbie Wasserman Schultz and local Pool Safely partner Laura Metro (founder of CPR Parties) held a water safety press conference. In addition, Chairman Kaye and CPSC Communications Director Scott Wolfson participated in a six-station RMT.

- Sponsorship of the World's Largest Swimming Lesson in Toledo, Ohio, in conjunction with Pool Safely partner The Josh Project, on Thursday, June 18, 2015. CPSC Commissioner Adler led the event activities. Pool Safely materials were also sent to other locations across the country for WLSL events.
- Working in partnership with children's singer/song writer Laurie Berkner, CPSC debuted a water safety song created especially for children: the Pool Safely song. In addition to writing and recording the song, Laurie also produced a video featuring young children performing the Pool Safely song. The song was posted on the Pool Safely YouTube channel and on Laurie's YouTube channel and Facebook page.
- During Pool Safely Pledge Week July 27-31, 2015, the campaign created, planned and executed the Pool Safely Pledge Week Twitter chat with partner co-hosts Safe Kids Worldwide and Families United to Prevent Drowning; conducted targeted outreach to partners to further involve them in taking and sharing the Pledge; drafted and distributed a targeted email that included a template toolkit for partners to use and educated them about the activities; and distributed materials to partners participating in Pledge Week.
- Pool Safely launched the Adventures of Splish & Splash smartphone app for both Apple and Android devices. Featuring the popular children's characters Splish and Splash, the app replaces the outdated, online-only Flash-based game technology that had previously been used for this educational tool. This is the first app launched by CPSC.
- A post-Labor Day/summer wrap up eight-station RMT on September 3 and 4, with participation by Scott Wolfson and Connie Harvey, Aquatics Director of the American Red Cross. In addition, a summer wrap up blog post was posted on CPSC.gov's On Safety blog.

PoolSafely.gov Website Development: In 2015, the Pool Safely website (www.PoolSafely.gov) was enhanced through extensive updates to and expansion of the Spanish-language site and additional information about compliance issues. The Adventures of Splish and Splash smartphone app was launched in August 2015.

Out of Home PSAs: Efforts continued to focus on placement of Pool Safely billboard PSAs in markets with high drowning rates. In addition, two special engagements took place with the PSAs:

- The Ohio Department of Health put Pool Safely PSAs on cable stations and in Ohio amusement parks, resulting in 1.3 million impressions.
- Walmart played the broadcast PSA in 500 of their stores on the Check Out Channel, resulting in more than 24 million impressions.

Informed the Public about Safe Sleep Environments

In 2015, CPSC informed the public about safe sleep environments for babies through:

Safe Sleep for Babies: CPSC continued to educate parents and caregivers on best practices for Safe to Sleep for babies with federal collaborators, the National Institute of Health ("NIH") Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development ("NICHD") and Health Resources and Services Administration ("HRSA"). This partnership extends safe sleep messaging beyond crib safety to include play yards, strollers and other durable nursery products. Communication efforts included CPSC's collaboration with the NIH SID/SUID work group to provide lifesaving information to new and expectant parents. Communication activities also extended beyond crib safety to the new durable nursery product standards, including play yards and strollers. CPSC joined the newly formed National Action Partnership to Promote Safe Sleep ("NAPSS"), which includes both private and public partnerships, associations, advocacy groups and other safe sleep stakeholders. Through exhibits hosted by Cincinnati Urban League and the Centene Corporation, CPSC distributed over 5,000 safe sleep resources and worked with local Cincinnati police and social service organizations that host baby safety showers and teen pregnancy education classes. Safe to Sleep resources were also distributed to over 100 organizations in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio and throughout the country. Safe sleep recalls were distributed through CPSC's childcare list serv and through the American Academy of Pediatrics Health Children website <https://www.healthychildren.org/> reaching over 62,000 members. CPSC co-hosted a twitter chat with NICHD and Parents magazine reaching over 1 million impressions. Additional organizations receiving CPSC safe sleep resources included churches and faith-based organizations such as Catholic Charities and Jewish Community Centers; hospitals including Nationwide and Cincinnati Children's Hospital, non-profits including the National Urban League, insurance agencies and health and safety organizations.

Reaching Consumers on Safe Sleep: The CPSC achieved 709 million Safe Sleep audience impressions through television, radio, print and social media outlets, including blogs and tweets.

INTERGOVERNMENTAL COORDINATION

The Commission works with many agencies over the course of a year. This section describes the significant coordination the CPSC has had with other governmental organizations. Specifically, this section provides information on: (1) a major state-supported safety initiative for the Virginia Graeme Baker Pool and Spa Safety Act and Recall Effectiveness Check Program; (2) the Commission's efforts coordinating with state and local programs; and (3) significant communication with other governmental agencies and offices, including any notification under section 218 of the CPSIA.⁹ In 2015, no state or local official filed a written notice to the Commission under section 218 of the CPSIA.

1) Major State-Supported Safety Initiatives

Virginia Graeme Baker Pool and Spa Safety Act ("VGBA"): The VGBA affects public pools and spas nationwide, and the Commission's enforcement of the Act requires the cooperation of state and local agencies. In 2015, states worked cooperatively with the CPSC to conduct inspections of pool sites to verify compliance with the Act.

Recall Effectiveness Check Program: The Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 (CPSIA), PL 110-314, amended Section 19 of the Consumer Product Safety Act (CPSA). It is a prohibited act to sell or offer for sale a product that has been subject to a corrective action. In 2015, state and local officials conducted inspections of distributors and retailers to determine compliance with the corrective action plan.

2) State and Local Programs

Section 29(a) of the Consumer Product Safety Act requires that the Commission establish a program to promote federal-state cooperation for the purpose of carrying out the Act. The goal of the program is to reduce consumer product related deaths and injuries by leveraging CPSC resources through cost-effective cooperation with state and local governments. In 2015, activities included the following:

- Assigning compliance and enforcement activities to the states. The table below provides the number of CPSC assignments to state officials made during the year;
- Supporting states through technical assistance and participation in conferences;
- Monitoring industry's compliance with CPSC mandatory laws;
- Engaging in outreach and dissemination of information through multiple venues, such as journal, print, electronic media, and presentations sharing product safety research;
- Hosted the 2015 State Designee meeting, training by field staff, and conference calls for State Designees.
- Working to meet or exceed annual performance goals. In 2015, states conducted product safety activities and inspections in cooperation with state and local governments. States

⁹ [Section 218 of the CPSIA amends the CPSA, Prohibited Acts, allowing] the attorney general of a state, or other authorized state officer, alleging a [specified] violation ... of the Act, ... on behalf of the residents of the state, ... to obtain appropriate injunctive relief. [The Act requires] a state [to] provide written notice to the Commission [prior] to initiate[ing] civil action by filing a complaint, ... at least 30 days before [unless] ... immediate action is necessary. The Commission may intervene in such civil action.

4) International Training Activity

As part of a strategy for addressing the growing complexity and risk entailed within additional global sources of production, the CPSC's Office of International Programs works to prevent hazardous and noncompliant consumer products from being exported to the United States through outreach and training abroad. The CPSC works with U.S. trading partners at the outset of the manufacturing process to increase their ability to produce products that comply with U.S. safety requirements. The agency also trains buyers and sourcing professionals who procure for U.S. importers. Outreach activities also include training foreign regulators on best practices to help them eliminate unsafe products from their jurisdictions, thus reducing the chances those products will find their way to the United States. The list below is a summary of international training activities completed in 2015.
