B.1. DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

The Contractor shall provide the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) with National Electronic Injury Surveillance System (NEISS) reports as specified in Items No. 0001 and 0002 (basic contract) listed on page 1, and Items No. 0003 and 0004 (option period) listed on page 2, of this contract, in accordance with the Statement of Work. These reports shall be coded and transmitted to CPSC via a microcomputer supplied by the Government. See Section C.3., STATEMENT OF WORK.

B.2. CONTRACT TYPE

This is an indefinite quantity contract for injury surveillance reports.

SECTION C - Description/Specifications/Work Statement

C.1. BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) administers the Consumer Product Safety Act, the Flammable Fabrics Act, the Federal Hazardous Substances Act, the Poison Prevention Packaging Act, and the Refrigerator Safety Act.

The primary purpose of these acts is to protect the public against unreasonable risks of injury or death associated with consumer products. The Consumer Product Safety Act specifically states that the Commission will conduct research, studies, and investigations on the safety of consumer products and offer training in product safety investigation and test methods.

The Commission collects information on injuries associated with consumer products by several data systems, including the National Electronic Injury Surveillance System (NEISS). This system consists of statistically selected hospitals that report information on product-associated emergency room cases to the Commission on a daily basis. Most hospitals use an employee to identify and code the relevant information and to transmit it electronically to CPSC via a microcomputer provided by CPSC. Other hospitals elect to allow a third party to identify, code and transmit the data. The smaller hospitals usually select a third option of telephoning the relevant data to CPSC.

The data collected from the hospitals are compiled and provided to Commission analysts to identify consumer products that are associated with serious and/or prevalent injuries that are treated in hospital emergency rooms. Since these data are collected from statistically selected hospitals, estimates can be projected to the national population as to the number and type of injuries involving individual consumer products. Manufacturers, distributors, retailers and consumers, as well as the Commission and other government agencies, use such data to assess the safety of consumer products, and to determine which products require further in-depth study to identify specific hazard patterns that may be associated with them. (Information collected from the emergency room records does not routinely include victim identification data.)

When a product is selected for more in-depth study, the Commission supplements the basic emergency room data collected through the NEISS with a follow-up inquiry on selected injuries. In such a case, the victim's name, address and telephone number is obtained by the Commission from the hospital. The victim is contacted and, with his/her consent, information about the product's use and causal factors is obtained. (Patient identification is destroyed by the Commission when the inquiry is completed.) By combining this information with the basic emergency room surveillance data, the Commission can better understand consumer product-related accidental injuries and evaluate specific hazard and injury patterns together with potential corrective actions.

The Consumer Product Safety Act provides that "No person shall be subject to civil liability to any person (other than the Commission or the United States) for disclosing information at the request of the Commission." 15 U.S.C. 2076(d).

C.2. OBJECTIVES OF THE PROJECT

To provide the Commission with timely reports of consumer product-related injuries/deaths from the statistically selected hospitals that comprise the National Electronic Injury Surveillance System (NEISS). The reports, which provide the Commission the means for generating injury estimates of emergency visits for the United States and its territories, are used by the Commission: (1) to study, analyze and investigate injuries associated with consumer products; (2) to evaluate the effectiveness of regulations and standards, voluntary and mandatory, and other Commission actions (education programs, recalls, etc.), and (3) to ascertain trends concerning new hazard/injury patterns.

C.3. STATEMENT OF WORK

Independently, and not as an agent of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), the Contractor shall provide the personnel and facilities, except as provided in Section H.1., GOVERNMENT FURNISHED MATERIALS/EQUIPMENT, necessary to electronically transmit, on a daily basis, data on specified cases treated in the Contractor's emergency room.

a. NEISS SURVEILLANCE REPORTS (Item No. 1)

- (1) The Contractor shall establish a control system within the hospital to ensure that all consumer product-related physical injuries, injuries resulting in death, and dead-on-arrival cases, treated or otherwise processed by the hospital as emergency cases, will be reported to CPSC in the detail specified herein.
- (2) The Contractor shall review the hospital emergency case records on a daily basis and code all "in-scope" cases as defined by the NEISS Coding Manual provided by the Government, and other categories of cases that CPSC may add on behalf of other Federal agencies. See also Section C.3.b.
- (3) The Contractor shall enter the coded information from the "in-scope" emergency department(s) cases to CPSC daily, into a microcomputer. Cases treated on weekends and Federal holidays shall be transmitted on the next regular working day. Transmission shall be via a microcomputer supplied by CPSC and in accordance with the procedures specified by the CPSC. CPSC will provide training and guidance on how to enter the data.

- (4) When the Contractor is notified by CPSC, by telephone or microcomputer, that a specific transmitted case is one of the occasional cases selected for a follow-up inquiry, the Contractor shall supply the name, address and telephone number of the patient to the CPSC representative. No additional payment will be made to the Contractor for supplying this information. Follow-up inquiries will be performed by telephone or in person by representatives of CPSC or other Federal agencies. Such inquiries will only be performed on a small fraction of the Contractor's reported injury cases, i.e., approximately 1%. Patient identification information provided to CPSC will only be supplied to trained interviewers to permit them to gather additional etiologic or epidemiologic data about selected cases from the patient, relatives, or other individuals who might be aware of the detailed circumstances surrounding an injury. CPSC will keep the information as to identity of the victim confidential and remove patient identification information from all reports and documents maintained by CPSC. CPSC will not supply patient identification information to other agencies unless they provide assurances that they will not release this information without prior patient consent.

(5) SPECIAL SURVEY REPORTS

CPSC may, from time to time, request the Contractor to temporarily provide additional information beyond that specified in the NEISS Coding Manual, (e.g., type of fireworks involved) in support of a special survey. Not more than six (6) special surveys will be conducted by CPSC during a one-year period and each survey will normally run for a one-month period. Cases identified as part of special surveys will not constitute more than 5 percent of the total product-related cases to be reported by the Contractor during the performance period. Instructions pertaining to each special survey will be sent to the Contractor approximately two (2) weeks in advance of each survey. Patient identification will not be required except for occasional cases selected for a follow-up inquiry as described in C.3.a.(4). CPSC will reimburse the Contractor for these special survey reports at the same price as regular Surveillance Reports.

b. SUPPLEMENTAL/SPECIAL STUDY REPORTS (Item No. 2)

- (1) The Commission may enter into formalized agreements with other Federal agencies to collect and assemble information through the NEISS to carry out special inquiries on injuries that would be of particular interest to the other agency. In these instances only, the definition of in-scope cases may be broadened and the Contractor shall code and transmit additional cases in accordance with additional coding instructions to be issued by the CPSC Project Officer.

- (2) Such additional cases shall contain the same data elements as required in Section C.3.a., NEISS SURVEILLANCE REPORTS, but these reports may also require some additional data elements, e.g., symptoms, treatment, time of incident. The reporting of these additional data elements for such "special study" type cases will require an estimated 25% more time per case than NEISS Surveillance Reports.

c. ORIENTATION AND TRAINING

CPSC will provide NEISS orientation and training to all involved Contractor personnel. CPSC will also provide technical instructions on case selection, coding, and reporting. The Contractor shall make available his/her personnel for basic training not to exceed 16 hours per person for the NEISS coder and back-up coder immediately after contract award and as personnel are replaced. This training will be provided at a site within the geographical area covered by the Contractor. The personnel responsible for coding and transmitting may be required to attend brief training seminars at a location other than their geographical area. Prior to such training seminars, the Contractor will be notified in advance with specific details. CPSC will reimburse the Contractor for actual travel costs not to exceed those specified in the Federal Travel Regulations.

d. PERIODIC MEETINGS

The Contractor staff assigned to this contract shall arrange periodic meetings, at least monthly, with hospital emergency room and other staff involved with the injury surveillance activity in order to promote effective injury reporting and awareness of product safety issues. Such meetings shall be planned and implemented in coordination with the hospital administration.

e. CONTRACTOR PERSONNEL

The Contractor shall be responsible for the continued and timely reporting of data as described in this document. Toward this end, the Contractor shall provide for back-up personnel to assume the function of NEISS reporting in the absence of the Contractor's regular designated personnel.

f. MICROCOMPUTER INSTALLATION

CPSC will provide the Contractor with a microcomputer. If necessary, the Contractor shall arrange with local companies for the services or equipment specified by the CPSC Project Officer for connecting the computer to a telephone line and/or the internet. CPSC will reimburse the Contractor for the cost of installing the necessary equipment or services.

g. MONTHLY RECURRING COMMUNICATION CHARGES

The microcomputer can be connected to an existing telephone line and/or internet service provider. If the Contractor and CPSC jointly agree that it is necessary to install a new service for this purpose, then CPSC will reimburse the Contractor for the actual monthly recurring charges.

h. SUPPLIES AND REPAIRS TO MICROCOMPUTER

- (1) The Contractor shall contact CPSC for all necessary supplies and repairs to the microcomputer. The Contractor will not be reimbursed for supplies and repairs acquired at the Contractor's own expense from private concerns unless the Contracting Officer approves such purchases or services in advance.
- (2) If necessary, the Contractor may be required to package and ship the computer to a designated place for repairs. In such event, CPSC will provide a replacement computer and pay for packaging materials and shipping costs at no expense to the Contractor.

C.4. PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

a. MINIMUM STANDARDS - The Contractor shall meet the following standards:

- (1) Average lag between treatment and collection date shall not exceed five (5) days. Adjustment may be made for record access delay if confirmed and acceptable to CPSC.
- (2) Percent of cases with error messages shall not exceed 5%.
- (3) All treatment dates shall be accounted for with adequate number of cases reported or message that no in-scope cases were found.

b. OUTSTANDING STANDARDS - The Contractor will receive a bonus of 10 percent of the month's bill (for cases reported) for each month the Contractor meets all of the following standards:

- (1) Average lag between treatment and collection date does not exceed three (3) days. (Adjustment may be made for record access delay if confirmed and acceptable to CPSC.)
- (2) Percent of cases with error messages did not exceed 3%.
- (3) All treatment dates were accounted for with adequate number of cases reported or message that no in-scope cases were found.

Evaluation of performance will be made by CPSC one month after the end of each quarter.

I.2. DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

- a. The Contractor shall submit to the Commission any report, manuscript or other document containing the results of work performed under this contract, before such document is published or otherwise disclosed to the public, to assure compliance with Section 6(b) of the Consumer Product Safety Act (15 U.S.C. Section 2055(b)), Commission regulations (16 C.F.R. Part 1101), and a Commission directive (Order 1450.2). These provisions restrict disclosure by Commission Contractors of information that (1) permits the public to identify particular consumer products or (2) reflects on the safety of a class of consumer products. Prior submission allows the Commission staff to review the Contractor's information and comply with the applicable restrictions. CPSC should be advised of the Contractor's desire to submit or publish an abstract or a report as soon as practical.
- b. Any publication of or publicity pertaining to, the Contractor's document shall include the following:

"This project has been partially funded with federal funds from the United States Consumer Product Safety Commission under this contract. The content of this publication does not necessarily reflect the views of the Commission, nor does mention of trade names, commercial products, or organizations imply endorsement by the Commission."

I.3. PRIVACY ACT

This contract does not require the Contractor to maintain a system of records as defined in the Privacy Act of 1974. More specifically, the Contractor is not required to, and agrees not to, maintain any system of records for or on behalf of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, in which any records or any personal data are indexed by, or retrieved by, a person's name, social security number, or any other unique identification.

I.4. AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS

Funds are not presently available for the option period October 1, 2010 through September 30, 2011. The Government's obligation under this contract is contingent upon the availability of appropriated funds from which payment for contract purposes can be made. No legal liability on the part of the Government for any payment may arise until funds are made available to the Contracting Officer for this contract and until the Contractor receives notice of such availability, to be confirmed in writing by the Contracting Officer.

I.5. OPTION TO EXTEND SERVICES (Nov 1999)

The Government may require continued performance of any services at the rates specified in the contract. The option provision may be exercised more than once, but the total extension of performance hereunder shall not exceed 6 months. The Contracting Officer may exercise the option by written notice to the Contractor within 30 days before the contract is to expire.

I.6. OPTION TO EXTEND THE TERM OF THE CONTRACT

- a. At the option of the Government, this contract is renewable for the period October 1, 2010 through September 30, 2011, for the quantities and unit pricing as specified on page 2 (option period) of this contract, by the Contracting Officer giving written notice of renewal to the Contractor prior to the expiration date of the previous contract period; provided that, the Contracting Officer shall give preliminary notice of the Government's intention to renew at least 30 days before the contract is to expire. (such preliminary notice shall not be deemed to commit the Government to renewals.)
- b. If the Government exercises this option, the extended contract shall be considered to include this option clause.
- c. The total duration of this contract, including the exercise of any options under this clause, shall not exceed two and one-half (2.5) years.

I.7. INDEFINITE QUANTITIES

- a. It is impossible to determine the exact quantities of reports described herein that will be required during the performance of the contract; however, funds for the minimum quantities for Items 0001 and 0002 on page 1 (basic contract) and Items 0003 and 0004 (option period) of this contract will be obligated and paid for unless the contract is terminated for default or convenience during the period of performance. The Contractor is obligated to furnish all reports of the type described herein up to the maximum quantities.

- b. The total maximum amount to be expended under the contract shall not exceed the grand total shown on page 1 (basic contract) and page 2 (option period) of this contract. When the total amount billed for services rendered under the contract equals this amount, the Contractor must immediately give written notice to the Contracting Officer.

I.8. RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF INFORMATION

- a. If the Contractor, in the performance of this contract, obtains access to information such as CPSC plans, reports, studies, data projected by the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), or personal identifying information which has not been released or otherwise made public, the Contractor agrees that without prior written approval of the Contracting Officer it shall not: (a) release or disclose such information, (b) discuss or use such information for any private purpose, (c) share this information with any other party, or (d) submit an unsolicited proposal based on such information. These restrictions will remain in place unless such information is made available to the public by the Government.
- b. In addition, the Contractor agrees that to the extent it collects data on behalf of CPSC, or is given access to, proprietary data, data protected by the Privacy Act of 1974, or other confidential or privileged technical, business, financial, or personal identifying information during performance of this contract, that it shall not disclose such data.
