WITH THE ELECTRIC DRYER AND STOVE AND AIR CONDITIONER'S PROGRAM BOX.

The complaint was received in February 2000, and the equipment was inspected, and the first upper respiratory tract infection was reported. The family is experiencing upper respiratory tract infections, cough, sneezing, and wheezing, which have been ongoing since the installation of the equipment. The family has been experiencing health problems since living in their new home, and the equipment has been causing indoor air quality issues.

The complaint is concerning the long-term health effects of the equipment. The family is experiencing upper respiratory tract infections, cough, sneezing, and wheezing. The family has been experiencing health problems since living in their new home, and the equipment has been causing indoor air quality issues.
CONSTRUCTION TIPS

1. Always wear protective glasses.
2. Use appropriate tools and equipment.
3. Follow manufacturer's instructions.

CONSUMER TIPS

1. Inspect the product before purchase.
2. Read the manual thoroughly.
3. Keep the product clean and well-maintained.

U.S. CONSUMERPRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION - NATIONAL INJURY INFORMATION CLEARINGHOUSE

INJURY INFORMATION

CHINESE DRAWAL