SUMMARY OF MEETING: The committee discussed and accepted minor editorial changes. The warning against run-on warnings was debated and changed to advise being "readily understood." The warning requiring supervision was altered to address a general recommendation for adult supervision and a specific recommendation when the unit is used for playing. The effects of cords and graspable components were debated and a task group will examine wording to address cords. The CPSC was asked to provide any incident data involving cords on or in play yards.
